Keywords: CDD, elective, requirements

I. POLICY

Following the removal of the Chronic Disease and Disability (CDD) Clerkship as a graduation requirement, the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine will increase the total number of elective weeks required for graduation from 20 to 24 weeks. Students in the Class of `15 who have already taken CDD Clerkship would have those weeks applied toward the new 24 week requirement.